MOSPITAL ORDERLY'S STORY ABOUT QUARANTINE.

fie Says Sick Immigrants on Hoffman Island Are Forced to Eat With Their Fingers From Iron Cups-The Bathtubs Not Cleaned for Eight Years.

They don't know what knives and forks are at the Hoffman Island quarantine hospital, according to Benjamin Eagle, a hospital orderly, who continued his testimony before Special Commissioner Charles N. Bulger in Part IX. of the Supreme Court yesterday, and of cups tem before this law was passed, except that out of which sick immigrants eat stew in order to have a regular traffic squad we with their fingers there are only 150 to had to modify the system a little. "What was the condition of the bathtube so far as your observation carrise?"

"They were iron tubs that had not been cleaned for eight years until this investigation started. They were not enamelled until then, either."

The witness told in detail what he professed to be common knowledge of all who worked on the island concerning questionable acts on the part of several of the employees in their relations with the immigrants. He did not say that Dr. Doty had been cognizant of these improprieties. He told of a kitchen man's having been discharged when report of one of the most flagrant of these irregularities had reached the ears of Dr. Hudson, in charge of the hospital.

The hearing was adjourned, to be convened again at some time next week that will be designated by Mr. Bulger.
